CONFERENCE SNEAK PEEK

Community Philanthropy in the Northwest and Beyond

Special Conference Session from Philanthropy Northwest:

Since 2011, Philanthropy Northwest has been purposefully exploring issues of community philanthropy; foundations partnering with Native communities; and collaboration among funders, nonprofits, policy makers, and other stakeholders. While much of the work has focused on the Northwest, learnings, questions, and ideas are applicable to any nonprofit and foundation working on community building across the country.

All conference attendees are invited to join Philanthropy Northwest to learn more about this on-going exploration and how you and your colleagues can add your expertise to the discussion. Breakfast is included in the registration fee, and a short annual business meeting for the Philanthropy Northwest membership will be included.
